This workshop is part of a Vétoquinol / Tyco Healthcare series of courses aimed at equine practitioners who offer colic surgery as an in-house service to their clients. It covers the main principles of small and large intestinal surgical techniques including stapling techniques, case presentations and a practical wet-lab session on the second day. Lectures will be delivered by three European equine specialists.

Veterinarians performing colic surgery are confronted with the need to correct the problem that faces them in a manner that has a minimal impact on the function of the intestinal tract whilst under a certain time pressure.
